I started a new game today because I don't want to wait for the patch and I can't return save files to continue my game. But since there are so many games breaking bugs I decided to write a small program for myself to make backups to save files. So here it is: He just copies save game files in folder C: WatchDogsSavesBACKUPS every ten minutes. To run it, you have to create a text file path.txt and add there way to your save files like this: C: Software files (x86) Ubisoft\Ubisoft Game Launcher savegames your key three digits, please make sure you write it with a double character where necessary. Save the path.txt where SavesBackup.jar is located. Start SavesBackup.jar every time you start a game by clicking on it twice or running cmd and typing Java-jar SavesBackup.jar. To kill this app close cmd or kill proces javaw.exe through the task manager. You need Java to be installed on your PC to run it! As I said I did it for myself but if you need it you can download it. 06-02-2014 #2 Also, if you don't trust me (suspicious viruses or more) here's the code, you can compose it yourself: Code: Import java.io.Buffered Bufferreader; Import java.io.FileReader import java.io.IOException import java.nio.file.CopyOption import java.nio.file.Files; import java.nio.file.Path; import java.nio.file.Paths; import java.nio.file.StandardCopyOption; Import java.io.File Import java.text.DateFormat import java.text.SimpleDateFormat import java.util.Calendar; import java.util.concurrent.Executors; java.util.concurrent.ScheduledExecutorService; import java.util.concurrent.TimeUnit; Public final class Copy - public static dir file; DateFormat public static date; public static calendar cal; Public static line all; Public static emptiness basic (String args) throws IOException - try (BufferedReader br - new BufferedReader (new FileReader (path.txt) Line - br.readLine (); while (line != null) - sb.append (line); line - br.readLine (); - all - sb.toString (); mainDir file - new file (C:WatchDogsSavesBACKUPS); mainDir.mkdir (); DateFormat - new SimpleDateFormat (yyyy-MM-dd HH-mm-ss); ScheduledExecutorService execService - Artists.newScheduledThreadPool (3); execService.scheduleAtFixedRate (new Runnable() - public void run() { Calendar.getInstance (); dir - new file (C:WatchDogsSavesBACKUPS; System.out.println (dateFormat.format (cal.getTime.)) toString()) dir.mkdir(); Way from th Way .get (all1.save); Path FROM2 - Ways .get (all 2.save); к нули.get (dir и No1.сохранить); Путь TO2 - Paths.get (dir и No2.save); Варианты CopyOption, новые CopyOption, StandardCopyOption.REPLACE_EXISTING, StandardCopyOption.COPY_ATTRIBUTES; nonpobyite - Files.copy (FROM, TO, - Catch (IOException e) / ToDO Auto-generated catch block e.printStackTrace (); Issue, 0L, 10L, TimeUnit.MINUTES); Don't say how bad I am at coding though! 06-02-2014 #3 first, I appreciate your work on the program - very useful. Secondly, is it possible if you could send me saved files for a new game? I accidentally deleted my stored files from the bin and I can't start a new game as Watch Dogs continues to fail. I just got to a mission where you have to kick the guy out of the garage. It doesn't matter, although I can always start from the beginning. I would be very grateful if you could download the saved files for the new game and send me a link. Thanks 06-03-2014 #4 originally published by IzharsBH Go to the original post First, I appreciate your work on the program - very helpful. Feel pretty save now. Please don't be afraid to use it! 06-03-2014 #6 you happen to have to keep the game around act 2 - 3? 06-03-2014 #7 WAHHAAH!!! You must be joking?! xD I even wrote a program to save backups of files. So when my save file is corrupted again I can use the old save. It was ruined! AND I CAN'T USE MY OLD SAVE FILE BECAUSE UPLAY KEEPS REPLACING IT WITH A BROKEN ONE! 06-03-2014 #8 originally published by Akreontage Go to the original WAHHAAHah post!!!! Have you tried to replace the files after starting the overlay and hit the beginning and before you choose to continue? If it's not work, start overlaying offline after replacing the file. 06-03-2014 #9 Thank you! It's working now. I had to copy my save files and then start uplaying offline to start the game's launch and get out of the game and overlay the uplay online, and he asked if I want to use my local savegame at last. 06-03-2014 #10 originally published by Akreontage Go to the original Thank You post! No problem. Hey, wouldn't it be awesome if Ubisoft support Ubisoft did your job and told us about these things? Maybe recommend us back time to our saves? Release a tool that helps us do it like you did? Show us how we can replace the saves, as I told you before? I just want to know what Ubisht pay them to do. - Watch Dogs Save the Game Watch_Dogs Unlocker - Platform: PC - Status: 2 savegames: 100% and 90% In today's hyper-connected world, Chicago has the most advanced and integrated computer systems in the country - one that controls almost every aspect of urban technology and supports important information about all city dwellers. From the beginning, you have to stay in hiding, because once Aiden is discovered, the mission ends in failure. First, don't move from where you are, and watch closely as the enemy gets the case from the kiosk and exchanges it a little further. Stopping near the stairsAfter the man with the case only after he begins to depart, noticeably. Keep an eye on the man at the kiosk who can recognize Aiden, as well as for the rest of the characters, marked on mini-cards, with red icons. Stop after you reach the stairs, because the person with the business is doing another thing, and goes left, then (you can be easily noticed). The final part of the mission rally is easy - from a safe distance, watch the case to put on board the boat. Follow the boatThe place where you find the bikeVirtually immediately, you have to follow the boat so dash to the bike parked nearby (you probably walked past it while following the man with the affair). Ride along the alleys, next to the embankmentAfter sidewalks and paths along the water and try not to crash into passers-by too much. Following the boat, do not approach it too much (you can keep a distance of 100-200 meters) so as not to be seen by enemies on board the boat. Chasing the boat takes tens of seconds and, if you are not mistaken, it ends in the harbor in the eastern district of Loop. Sneak into the marina and steal the hullIt's a good idea to turn the bridge 90 degreesyyy you can walk up to the wharf, practically, from either side because Aiden is a great swimmer. If you don't want to think too much about what to do, start with where you ended up after the boat on the bike so most likely to the west of the harbor. Head to the marina and break the turning bridge to unlock further passage. Head east and keep a close eye on the two guards patrolling the nearest area, distracting them (such as bait) or hiding behind one of the covers if necessary. In the end, you have to reach the passage under the boat, shown in the above screenshot. Wait until the next guard goes to the water (south) and head in the opposite direction. The place where you find the case after a few times you have to get to the place where the matter was left. Around, there are at least three enemies and the one you just passed goes north again. So before you get down to business, I would recommend you use bait or blackout to blind/distract enemies temporarily. Once you decide it's safe enough, stand next to the case and check its contents (it will take some time). Get out of the wharf You can leave the port even with the boat that you stole You can leave the marina for yachts in many ways. You can, for example, run just as you took to get here to the place where you parked your bike, steal one of the nearby boats, or just jump into the water and swim to the place where you start the last mission. No matter how you have accepted, this mission will soon be over.
